KENWAL DAY CAMP

Cell Phone & Electronic Device Policy

Kenwal Day Camp takes the safety of all its campers seriously and we recognize that on our overnight trips there may be situations when it is important for your child to have access to a cell phone. Therefore, cell phones will be permitted on all trips.

CELL PHONE POLICY

The use of a cell phone in a travel program is a privilege, not a right. Camper agrees that cell phone usage is permitted for the following reasons:

1. Phones may be used in case of an emergency.
2. Phones may be used to check in with parents or guardians at designated times.
3. Campers are not permitted to answer cell phone unless it is a staff member calling them.
4. Campers are not permitted to use cell phones on camp grounds.
5. Parents are not permitted to call their child's cell phone. Your child will check in with you at the designated time. If you need to get in touch with your child while they are on a trip, you must call or text their Group Leader first then Lou, and we will have your child call ASAP.
6. Camper understands that if an emergency situation arises where he/she must use their cell phone, he/she must call their COUNSELOR OR GROUP LEADER first. If the camper is unable to reach the group leader, he/she is to call Lou, and then Kenwal Day Camp's office. Kenwal will provide each camper with the phone numbers of their counselors, group leaders, Lou, and the Kenwal office.
7. Campers are permitted to use their cell phones for photos when instructed to do so.
8. Campers are responsible for safeguarding their cell phone. Counselors, group leaders and travel director will not be permitted to hold cell phones for campers.
9. The travel director, group leaders, and counselors have the right to check a camper's cell phone log at any time.
10. Lou and the group leaders will have the final say on all trips with regard to what constitutes appropriate cell phone usage.

Any camper who violates the aforementioned rules will lose the right to bring a cell phone on other trips. The use of cell phones for the purpose of inappropriate texting will lead to automatic loss of cell phone usage for the duration of the summer. CYBER BULLYING OF ANY KIND WILL NOT BE TOLERATED AND IS GROUNDS FOR IMMEDIATE DISMISSAL FROM THE PROGRAM WITHOUT A REFUND OF TUITION.

ELECTRONIC DEVICE POLICY

Kenwal Day Camp understands that technology is evolving at a rapid pace and young adults would like to “stay connected” as much as possible. However, we want all of our campers to be fully engaged and actively participating in our travel programs. In an effort to create a balance we are allowing some electronic devices to be brought on our overnight trips. This contract will outline what are acceptable electronic devices and when it is appropriate for campers to use them. Below is a list of items that are approved for your camper to bring on our overnight trips ONLY.

If you do not see an item on the list or have a question about bringing a particular electronic device on our trips, please contact Lou at Lou.Boccia@kenwaldaycamp.com.

- iPads or other tablets
- Ebook readers

Campers are permitted to use these devices on the buses. CAMPERS ARE NOT ALLOWED TO USE THESE DEVICES WHEN PARTICIPATING IN AN ACTIVITY.

Electronic devices may not be used for the following:

- Use of social media (example: Facebook)
- Correspondence (example: email)
- Text messaging or similar programs
- Surfing the web

This is not a complete list; Kenwal Day Camp staff has the right to amend this list at any time.

While it is impossible for Kenwal Day Camp to monitor the use of cell phones or electronic devices at night in hotel rooms, it is stated in this policy that the use of any cell phone or electronic device “after hours” by campers for inappropriate use may result in the device(s) being taken from the camper.

Kenwal Day Camp is not responsible for lost or stolen electronic devices. Campers assume all risk when bringing these items on overnight trips.

KENWAL DAY CAMP - EXTREME TEEN BUS / HOTEL RULES

Bus Rules

- You may eat, but if you make a mess, the privilege will be taken away.
- Water bottles only! No soda, sports drinks, or gum ever!
- You may use your electronic devices but no social media.
- Stay seated, keep your voices low, and only use the bathroom for emergencies.
- Take only what you need off the bus and leave what you don't.

Hotel Rules

- Stay in your room at all times. Doors will be taped.
- Do not answer the door for anyone except for me and Kenwal staff. (Password)
- Do not use the hotel phone for any reason.
- If campers notice any damage to the rooms they must notify a staff member immediately. We will notify the hotel so that campers are not held responsible.
- If you have any problems either call or text your Counselor or GL.
Elaboration: problems with room, problems with roommates, sickness (parents can't help you from home!) That is the only reason you should use your phone!
- There are two beds in the room, no one sleeps on the floor, chairs, or bathtub.
- You are to shower every day and brush your teeth!! Personal hygiene is a must!
- When we are ready to leave, you must have everything you need and be ready to go. No excuses!!
- You will be told the night before, what time to be up and ready. You must be ready at that time!
- You can have food in your room, but you must clean up after yourself or the privilege will be taken away.
- Room checks will be made frequently. Never double lock or chain your door.
- Be tolerant of your roommates. The idea is to have a fun and pleasurable experience. Please make an attempt to compromise any issues before you contact your GL.
- Do not stay up all night, we have action packed days and you don't want to be exhausted!
- Keep the noise levels to a minimum. There are other guests staying in rooms, and they do not want to hear screaming kids all night! That goes for walking in the hallways as well.
- Most important: Have fun! This is a unique experience and you should get as much as possible from it!

By signing the permission slip/cell phone/electronic devices policy, my child and I have read understand the rules mentioned above.
